The Guttenberg Bible was printed before the Protestant Reformation. THE ORTHODOX JEWISH BIBLE was published in cyberspace in the midst of the Messianic Jewish Reformation now ongoing. (The purpose of this unvarnished translation is not aesthetical but exegetical, insuring good doctrine to preserve the ongoing revival from error and apostasy.) What is exciting is not that the OJB has a very high Google page rank and scores high search results on Yahoo, MSN and all major Internet Search Engines, but that the L-rd is getting ready to focus His Word on His own unsaved relatives and that vast numbers are going to come to faith because as we sow them the Word abundantly we will also reap abundantly. A Search Engine is like a fire engine: it takes you to what is hot. The L-rd has made His Bible hot. Like that day, May 19, 1975, so hot, so very hot, on Miami Beach. The Holy Spirit was speaking to me (Acts 8:29) that hot day. Just as He was telling Philip to evangelize the Ethiopian Eunoch, so He was telling this “Philip” to go evangelize a man bathing nine feet out in the Atlantic Ocean, an Orthodox Jewish man named Art who was standing in the Miami Beach ocean up to his neck. A week later I was in his 1975 black Cadillac surveying a vast Brooklyn Orthodox Jewish unreached field. Then later that same day in 1975, out at Laguardia Airport, a messianic Jewish leader named Richard was weeping and describing to me a prophetic dream, a prophetic vision, where in the dream he saw these Orthodox Jewish people burning in the EISH OLAM (“eternal fire” Jd verse 7) and no fire truck around, whole Yiddish-speaking Jewish shtetl neighborhoods burning and no fire truck responding, no believer seemingly caring, even though these are Moshiach’s own unsaved relatives perishing in the flames of hell’s eternal holocaust. Now 30 years later it is hot again, hot in Miami Beach, hot in New York City, hot in Brooklyn. And across the street from Beth Shalom it was very hot Friday (July, 2005). Why so hot? Because suddenly and without warning, a huge plume of dark grey smoke began disgorging from a storefront window right across the street from Beth Shalom and the smoke was terrible and the flames could actually be seen through the window of the second floor Brooklyn apartment and sparks were flying from the window air conditioner. It was definitely a Five Alarm fire but no fire truck was on the scene. I seemed to be the only one that noticed it. Cars were going by. Everyone was oblivious. Please don’t be oblivious to this prayer letter, just glancing at it and laying it aside. For just as it took what seemed like 30 minutes before I heard the first fire engine siren so also it took 30 years from the summer of 1975 to the summer of 2005. But then, suddenly, just as the whole street in front of Beth Shalom for several hundred yards was at last filled with fire trucks and ambulances and fire hoses, so, in the same way, soon the various major fellowships and sodalities of the Body of Moshiach and all the L-rd's hell-fire fighting fire engine companies will be on the scene right here where I am in Brooklyn. Yes o yes o thank you Hashem...I am discussing facts, not dreams, now. I can't tell you all the details. But o if you had only been with me and actually seen with your own eyes Friday those firemen RUNNING up the fire truck ladder and leaping like fearless gazelles onto the burning roof to save any stranded souls in the spreading flames! O if you would only catch the vision G-d gave me in May of 1975 in New York City and RUN like a hell-fire fighting prayer warrior to your prayer closet and pray over this prayer letter because I want to assure you that Richard's 1975 vision was from the Holy Spirit, that "though the vision delay, wait for it, for it will certainly come and will not tarry" (Habakkuk 2:2).
